Local University Student Singer-Songwriter-Violinist

Drawing inspiration for debut single from current events to heal.

Greater Tampa Bay Area, FL – New to the recording artist scene: singer, songwriter, and violinist Elijah Martin has officially released his debut single, "SkytaPop," on August 14, 2020, followed by another original song, "I'm not your Game" released September 25, 2020, and "Trying" scheduled for release on October 30, 2020. In 2021 he will be releasing another 6 singles and by the summer 2021 he will be releasing his album, "Love is an action," which is a compilation of all his previously released songs plus he is recording a new bonus track to include in the album.

"My music embodies who I am as a person, I pour all of my emotion into each and every song. I'd say I write a lot about romance and real world problems. That's really when Inspiration strikes me; and then, I build from there." —Elijah Martin

A life-long dream coming to fruition that started from the young age of seven when he fell in love with both music and violin after hearing his mother's passionate playing fill the air. From then on, her influence has shaped his view and music, especially after her sudden passing during his sophomore year of high school. After she passed, Elijah withdrew emotionally and immersed himself in the comfort of his music and memories. Elijah's grandmother, a hard-working woman that recognized his musical talent, pushed him forward and held him up during this time of loss. With her help, he was able to fully realize his dream and passion. Music became his sole way of connecting with others and concentrating in school. Elijah became aware and sensitive to the issues that surrounded his school, classmates, and community: and he wrote. Lyrics flowed through him as he empathized and experienced.

In January of 2019, he signed on with local Grammy Award® Winning Pianist, Latin Grammy Award® Winning Producer, Multiple Global Music award winner as Composer, Arranger, and songwriter, Lannie Battistini who was immediately impressed by Elijah's multifarious music approach. When asked about Elijah, Battistini said, "Elijah's songs and lyrics breathe through standard conventional music genres. He has this innate gift to fuse styles like R&B, Glam Rock, Pop, Experimental Electronic and Celtic and make it work. Sort of reminds me a bit of David Bowie when he started, who was particularly known for his innovative work during the 1970s. Elijah separates himself from other artists through his indistinguishably unique sound."

Elijah's singles and album are being released through the Recording Studio's label, Hands In Motion Music Productions based out of Brandon, Florida. When he's not in the recording studio, Elijah usually performs at private events, singing and playing his violin for the masses. Entertaining audiences is one of the most fulfilling ways he spends his free time, besides working as a lifestyle model and is even venturing into the acting industry.
